

Austin Recovery provides effective and compassionate chemical dependency treatment at very affordable rates. Our Transformational Treatment Model aims to bring about the in-depth cognitive, behavioral, and spiritual changes that are essential for overcoming addiction. Our model uses research based treatment practices that enhance traditional 12 Step models in a loving and supportive environment.

A Full Continuum of Care:

Detoxification: Under the direction of our physician, a Board Certified Addictionologist, clients receive round-the-clock medical care while safely withdrawing from all mood-altering chemicals. Lengths of stay average five to seven days.

Separate Men's & Women's Campus: Our residential programs afford clients the safe and supportive environment needed to make the healthy changes that recovery requires. Our Men's Program is located in South Austin on our 40-acre ranch, while women receive treatment on our 8-acre campus conveniently located in Northeast Austin. Lengths of stay are thirty to forty-five days.

Long Term Programs: The National Institute of Drug Abuse notes that "...for most patients, the threshold of significant improvement is reached at about three months of treatment." Clients with a history of relapse or requiring improved life-skills often benefit from longer-term treatment. Following their initial 30 days of treatment we offer the additional time for healing needed by many clients. Our men receive treatment at Austin Recovery's Lodge located on a tranquil 12-acre site in South Austin, while women transition to our facilities located on the Edith Royal Campus.

Family House Program for Women with Children: We also provide the opportunity for women to bring their children into treatment with them at Austin Recovery's Family House. A state grant affords women 60 days of treatment for themselves and specialized therapies for their young children.

Austin Recovery's

Mission

Provide effective, affordable, and compassionate chemical dependency treatment to working families.

Message from our CEO:

Bill Wigmore

Quality residential treatment should be within the reach of average families. Austin Recovery accepts referrals from throughout Texas and beyond. We are committed to providing residential treatment services and therapies that can bring about the in-depth transformation needed for lasting recovery. Clients achieve this through working a 12 Step Program along with therapies and activities specifically designed to foster healthy changes.

Austin Recovery receives generous support from foundations and individuals committed to making quality treatment available at affordable costs. Their gifts allow us to keep our rates within reach of the working families we help. We hope you'll consider Austin Recovery both in making treatment referrals as well as in your charitable giving. We are working toward the day when treatment will be available to all who reach out to us for help and healing.

*Yours in recovery,
Bill Wigmore, CEO*
